My point of view

What is Junior Achievement?

What is Junior Achievement's purpose? To inspire and prepare young people to succeed in a global economy. With core values that believe in the boundless potential of young people and the power of partnership and collaboration central Iowa donors, volunteers, and corporations reach 20,000 students. These students and teachers receive age-appropriate business and economic curricula in grades K-12 which are taught by one of our 1600 volunteers in the classroom. Junior Achievement is a not-for-profit organization that has provided economics and financial literacy programs to students in central Iowa since 1955.

At 6100 Grand Avenue in Des Moines is a hidden city built in 2001 for kids and ran by kids called Richard O. Jacobson JA BizTown. The JA BizTown curriculum is a hands-on learning program that combines an four-week classroom curriculum with a state-of-the-art interactive government and free enterprise laboratory for 5-6th graders. Last year over 4000 students experienced this program through the help of Corporate Day Sponsors.
